1 of 1 review helpful Don t bother publisher didn t edit it at all By macshaggy This just seems to be a bad OCR converted version Words run together and there are no real breaks and runs like a long page for the entire book No real typesetting I know that it s for 0 99 but still it should look semi professional It should have just been simply read and edited but that may have been too much for the publisher I had to r An Investigation of the Laws of Thought on Which are Founded the Mathematical Theories of Logic and Probabilities by George Boole first published in 1854 is the second of Boole s two monographs on algebraic logic Boole s work founded the discipline of algebraic logic and is often credited as being the source of what we know today as Boolean algebra Boole was a professor of mathematics at what was then Queen s College Cork now University College Cork in Ireland
